Case No.: 25-40977

CONSUMER OBJECTION TO

SALE OF PERSONALLY

IDENTIFIABLE INFORMATION

Movant David S Neal, herein respectfully requests that this Honorable Court enter a protective order prohibiting the transfer or sale of his personally identifiable information to any third party for any reason, based upon 11 USC 363(b)(1) and the facts set forth below.

1. On March 24, 2025, movant became aware of this bankruptcy filing by 23and Me Inc.

2. Movant is a customer of debtor 23and Me Inc.

3. Movant submitted genetic samples to debtor for genetic testing.

4. Debtor is in possession of movant's personal information including highly sensitive genetic information.

5. Movant attempted to delete his personal information from debtor's systems on March 24, 2025.

6. However debtor's systems are malfunctioning and responded with a message "Well, this is embarrassing". (Exhibit 1)

OBJECTION TO SALE

1 7. Debtor's failure to honor movant's request for data deletion is a violation of debtor's
2 privacy policy.

3 8. Debtor's intention to sell movant's personal information despite his desire to have his
4 data deleted is a violation of 11 USC 363(b)(1) and is fraudulent.

5 9. Movant suggests to this Honorable Court that he is probably not the only consumer
6 wishing to delete/protect their PII and that debtor may be systematically denying data deletion
7 requests in an effort to preserve records to receive an increased valuation in the debtor's sale.

8
9 WHEREFORE, movant requests that this Honorable Court, deny the bankruptcy
10 application of debtor 23andme Inc. until such time as debtor has processed his data deletion
11 request.

13 Dated: March 24, 2025

Respectfully submitted,

14 /s/ DAVID S NEAL
